On Saturday, March 27, 2010, come celebrate the Fourth Annual Women Cultivating Women 2010 Awards Ceremony. This widely anticipated event will commence from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at the historic Cheyney University of Pennsylvania at 1837 University Circle, Cheyney, PA (Delaware County).

Women Cultivating Women's (WCW) mission is to strengthen intergenerational relationships among women and empower girls from various socio-economic classes as well as ethnic backgrounds on social and gender specific topics.

This transformational event will honor the tireless works of amazing women including: Dr. Michelle Howard-Vital, Mary McLeod Bethune Award; Honorable Lori Dumas, Juvenile Justice Award; Lady B, Music Pioneer Award; MoShay LoRen, Empowerment Award; and Gwen Ragsdale, Historian Award.

This year's theme is: "Words of Wisdom: Helping Young Women to Understand the impact of the Decisions They Make in Life".

This is a FREE event so bring family, friends, or young girls to recognize honorees as well as learn about the myths and facts associated with harmful criminal activities that impact families and communities as well as make it difficult to effectuate our personal dreams all while enjoying dynamic speakers, networking, entertainment, and delicious food.

Hopefully, you will attend this event because it's important that Women Cultivating Women!
