INTRODUCTION

The purpose of having a University governance structure for Cheyney University of Pennsylvania is to provide an opportunity for faculty, staff, students and administrators to provide recommendations in the decision-making process. The practice of establishing a governance structure, especially as it relates to curricular matters and academic policies, is a common practice in higher education. The benefits of a collegial, decision-making process or “shared governance” are well documented in professional publications and typically delineated in standards of accrediting agencies, such as the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools.

The governance structure is presented here primarily in terms of the four divisions that report directly to the President, i.e., Academic Affairs, Campus Life and Student Affairs, Finance and Administration, and University and Constituent Development.

In addition to the councils and committees in the University governance structure, the University officially recognizes several faculty and student advisory groups and organizations such as the Faculty Senate and the Student Government Cooperative Association. Although some of these organizations are not in the formal governance structure of the University, they may play significant roles in making policy recommendations through the councils and committees that are in the governance structure.

Moreover, the University embraces the collective bargaining units authorized by the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) and works collaboratively with these units, primarily through the administration’s “Meet and Discuss” sessions with the representatives of these unions, in expression of shared governance.

Furthermore, any individual or group within the Cheyney University community may initiate recommendations for changes in policies and regulations. It should be understood, however, that all areas of the University are interconnected. Therefore, some policies and procedures that evolve from the decision-making process may have to be reviewed by more than one area (i.e., council or committee).

Staff and Faculty members appointed to a committee shall be appointed based on qualifications and expertise appropriate to the purpose of the governing body, and will serve for a maximum of two years. Students appointed to a committee will serve for one year. The President of Cheyney University serves ex-officio on all governing bodies at the university. All committees within the structure will meet at least once per semester, and additional meetings may be called as appropriate.

MAJOR PASSHE AND UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE UNITS/OFFICES

The powers and duties of the major units and officers of the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) and Cheyney University – Board of Governors, Chancellor, Council of Trustees, and President – are articulated in Act 188 of 1982 (Act 188), the enabling legislation for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania’s State System of Higher Education (PASSHE) and are summarized below.
The Board of Governors (BOG) is responsible for the overall planning and operation of the system including but not limited to selecting and evaluating the Chancellor, appointing constituent University Presidents, determining evaluation standards for constituent University Presidents, establishing a broad fiscal, personnel and educational policies and creating new undergraduate degree programs. The Board is also responsible for establishing general policies for student admission, reviewing and approving various System and constituent budgets, establishing general personnel policies, entering into collective bargaining agreements, approving all PASSHE building projects, representing PASSHE before the General Assembly, and setting all fees and tuition and policies related thereto.

CHANCELLOR

The Chancellor, PASSHE’s Chief Executive Officer, is responsible for the administration of PASSHE under policies prescribed by the BOG; advises the BOG on the formulation of policies, and oversees the implementation of BOG policies; recommends PASSHE’s overall budget, and reviews and recommends undergraduate and graduate academic programs; assists the BOG in its appointment of University Presidents; is responsible for the administration of the central office, PASSHE business procedures, and for the overall organization of maintenance of the physical plants and security at all institutions; conducts comprehensive planning in consultation with representatives from the Council of Trustees, the President, faculty, students, and alumni to establish priorities and procedures for the operation and development among the institutions, with respect to the role and scope of each institution; serves as an ex-officio member of the Council of Trustees of each PASSHE institution; and negotiates on behalf of the Board of Governors collective bargaining agreements labor unions in addition to other duties charged under Act 188.

CHEYNEY UNIVERSITY COUNCIL OF TRUSTEES

The Council of Trustees of Cheyney University (Council) consists of eleven (11) members who, except for the student member are nominated and appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. At least two (2) members of the eleven (11) members must be alumni of the institution. The Council maintains five committees to achieve its communication and oversight responsibilities: Executive, Finance and Administration, Academic Affairs, Student Affairs, Institutional Advancement (University Relations).

The Council has the power and duty for the following in accordance with the rules and regulations adopted by the BOG:

1. To make recommendations to the Chancellor for the appointment, retention, or dismissal of the President following consultation with students, faculty, and alumni.
2. To assist the President in developing proper relations and understanding between the institution and its programs and the public.
3. To review and approve recommendations of the President as to the standards for the admission, discipline, and expulsion of students.
4. To review and approve the recommendations of the President pertaining to policies and procedures governing the use of institutional facilities and property.
5. To approve schools and academic programs.
6. To review and approve the recommendations of the President pertaining to annual operating
7. and capital budget requirements for forwarding to the BOG.
8. To review and approve charges for room and board and other fees except student activity fees.
9. To conduct an annual physical inspection of facilities and make recommendations regarding maintenance and construction to the BOG.
10. To review and approve all contracts and purchases negotiated or awarded by the President with or without competitive bidding and all contracts for consultative services entered by the President.
11. To represent the institution at official functions of the Commonwealth.
12. To conduct an evaluation of the President in accordance with the evaluation procedure established by the BOG.

PRESIDENT

The President of Cheyney University is appointed by the BOG. The President serves as the Chief Executive Officer of the University as detailed within Act 188. The President serves as ex-officio on all University committees.

PRESIDENT’S EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Purpose: The President’s Executive Council is the primary University policy-making body. The establishment and/or revisions of University policies and procedures are endorsed by the Council of planning and assessment. Its mission is to coordinate all strategic and long-term planning at the institution and to provide a forum for all constituencies to participate in the planning process.

Organizationally the Strategic Planning and Continuous Improvement Council reports to the President through the President’s Executive Council. The Strategic Planning and Continuous Improvement Council establishes ad hoc committees or task forces who are given specific assignments such as reviewing the mission statement or coordinating the development of institutional goals or objectives. Procedurally, the Strategic Planning and Continuous Improvement Council provides regular updates to the campus community as its work progresses and drafts are developed. A mechanism is provided for the campus community to provide input into working drafts to ensure that the Council is responsive to the University community. After taking final action, the Council submits its reports or recommendations to the President through the President’s Executive Council. When appropriate, the President submits the reports or recommendations, with any modifications he/she deems proper, to the Cheyney University Council of Trustees and the Board of Governors.
