The Teacher

Lord, Who am I To Teach the way
To little children day by day,
So prone myself to go astray?

I teach them knowledge, but I know
How Faint they flicker and how low
The candles of my knowledge glow.

I teach them power to will and do,
But only now to learn anew
My own great weakness through and through.

I teach them love for all mankind
And all God's creatures, but I find
My love comes lagging far behind.

Lord, if their guide I still must be,
Oh let the little children see
The teacher learning hard on Thee

Alma Mater

Cheyney, Cheyney, Alma Mater
Thou whose light can never fail.
With a deep and true devotion
We, thy sons and daughters, hail,
Hear the pledge thy children offer
Strong of hand and clear of brain,
When thou callest, Alma Mater,
Never shalt thou call in vain.

Thou has taught us not to falter,
To be loyal, brave and true,
Striving upward by thy spirit,
In whatever we may do;
And at last, when we have triumphed
Down the long life battle-line,
All the honor and the glory,
Alma Mater, shall be thine.
