OVERVIEW
Cheyney University of Pennsylvania, the nation's oldest African-American higher education institution, is offering a 36 credit-hour Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree program with two degree tracks: a pre-professional Master of Public Administration, and an Executive Master of Public Administration. This places Cheyney in a unique position to address the need to increase the number of senior-level employees in public administration. Courses will emphasize methods that public administrators should use to address the needs of the nation's changing population.

Depending on previous administrative work experience, students may be admitted to either the Executive or the Pre-Professional track. Individuals with at least five years of management experience will be eligible for the Executive MPA degree program track. Students enrolled in the Cheyney University MPA program with little or no management experience will pursue a pre-professional program. This program meets the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA) curriculum standards.

PHILOSOPHY
The faculty of the Master in Public Administration program at Cheyney University strives to create educational experiences for their students that are dynamic, interactive, and that keep pace with the change and growth of an increasingly complex society. Our faculty are scholars who are student centered and work with students in helping them reach their highest potential. Faculty will challenge you and empower you to be the best you can be.

ACADEMIC ADVISING
Academic advising for the graduate student at Cheyney University is essential for academic success, growth and development. Upon acceptance to the graduate program all students will be assigned a faculty academic advisor. Students must work closely with their assigned faculty advisor as your faculty advisor is your guide in navigating through your graduate program. Your faculty advisor will work with you to develop a planned program of study which will specify the courses you have to complete in order to fulfill the requirements of your Master of Public Administration degree.
