WELCOME TO THE SELF-SERVICE PORTAL

The Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education has implemented a new web-based environment allowing access to many virtual tools which are designed to benefit administrators, faculty, staff, and students of its member universities. Access to records and essential tools via the web is a powerful, convenient, and productive means of doing business. We are confident you will find the portal both progressive and easy to use.

In order to access the Self-Service Portal, you must have a valid university account and password. If you need assistance with an online function, tips and documentation have been integrated into the portal applications or you can contact your local help desk.

Look for continuous enhancements to this system in the future. More options are being developed and more tools will be implemented as they become portal ready.
